He pointed to an earlier release of documents from other evidence teams which included detailed reports about each of the victims. No such reports have been made available for team six.

Jefferson County authorities say no such reports exist.

"I have a question for Jefferson County, and that is, 'If they just got this report from the FBI, and they didn't have a team six report that had all of the details incorporated into it, how did they ever write their official report?'" Rohrbough asked. "If Jeffco just got this book, and there really isn't another one, what are they writing their report from?"

Tallman said the final report written by the sheriff's department and issued in May 2000 used a series of diagrams that have been released as the basis for information about what happened outside the school. She said no other reports from the FBI team exist.

"We have released everything that we have related to these teams," she said.

The question could be significant, because the Rohrbough family has sued Jefferson County, alleging, among other things, that a deputy's bullet killed Daniel.

One of the pages of notes released Thursday includes a notation that a coroner's official found "no exit wounds" in examining Daniel's body outside the school. That is a direct contradiction of the findings of the autopsy and the official report, but Brian Rohrbough said he chalked it up to sloppy work at the scene.

"I don't see anything critical in there," he said.

Thursday's release followed several others over the past five months sparked by the ongoing court battles and requests filed by members of the news media.

"There is no new information being released," said Ann Atanasio, FBI spokeswoman. "It's just that it has never been released in this form and we are trying to ensure that there can be no question that every work product produced as a result of our investigation has been made available."

Tallman noted that some materials — such as crime scene photographs and information about potential suspects who were later cleared of involvement — have been sealed by a judge.

Klebolds speak up in book

'Parents Under Siege' draws from killer's kin

By Kevin Simpson
Denver Post Staff Writer

Good parenting doesn't guarantee good children — or that parents will be any wiser to kids' "secret lives," according to two prominent researchers drawn into the vortex of the Columbine tragedy that continues to inspire debate about parental responsibility.

Cornell University researchers James Garbarino and Claire Bedard wrote "Parents Under Siege" with information from exclusive interviews with Tom and Sue Klebold. The Klebolds' 17-year-old son, Dylan, and Dylan's classmate Eric Harris killed 13 others two years ago before committing suicide.

"People naively assume there's a one-to-one correspondence with what you do as a parent and what you get with your child, so when your child gets in deep trouble, people assume you can work back from there to say parents are the cause of that," Garbarino said Friday in a telephone interview. "This book is designed to lay out why that isn't necessarily so."

The Klebolds contacted the authors after reading their 1999 publication, "Lost Boys: Why Our Sons Turn Violent and How We Can Save Them," and the resulting dialogue contributed to the findings in "Parents Under Siege."

"Dr. Garbarino is a well-recognized expert on parenting skills, and the book is a serious work that supports the fact that caring, responsible and well-intentioned parents may have children who commit unexplainable acts," said Lisa Simon, a spokeswoman for the Klebold family. "The experiences of the parents represented in this book are instructive, and if the book helps one parent better understand their child, then it will have achieved their goal."

Garbarino noted that legal concerns precluded direct quotations from the family from appearing in the book — and the same legal is-ssues prevent him from addressing specifics about the family in interviews.

Both the Klebolds and the Harris family already have settled claims with 30 victims' families, but six families of slain students are proceeding with a civil action.

Brian Rohrbough — whose son, Daniel, was killed outside Columbine — was out of town and unavailable for comment on the release of the book. But earlier, he said he agreed to settle with the gun suppliers in the rampage because there had been "full disclosure" and they had accounted for their actions. He hasn't been satisfied with the response of the killers' families.

"These are the people who have not said one word to my family, and they raised the murderers," he said last spring. "The issues are much larger than an insurance company paying out some money."

Garbarino acknowledged that holding parents responsible for the criminal acts of their children remains a strong sentiment in the wake of teen violence, but he hopes the book will help people understand how kids can go bad even in good families.

"It's hard to put aside your rage when you've lost a loved one, but in the larger picture, the issue is having compassion based on understanding how things happen, so you have compassion not only for the obvious victim, but the hidden victim," he said. "The Klebolds are hidden victims."

The authors dedicated the book to the Klebolds and their remaining son, Byron, as well as "all the families who have lost children."

Garbarino said he and Bedard, his wife, surveyed 275 Cornell freshmen and asked them to describe the "worst thing, in the sense of most dangerous or troubling," they had done in high school without their parents' knowledge.

Some of their answers: 18 percent said they'd stolen from their parents, 14 percent had been arrested or detained, 23 percent had driven while drunk, 11 percent had used hard drugs, and one-fourth had considered suicide. One boy actually attempted suicide — and was able to keep it from his parents.

The survey also asked: "Do you think it is possible for a teenager to be planning such an attack (at Columbine) without the parents knowing about it?"

Ninety-nine percent said yes.

"The Klebolds are an extreme case of something quite common in terms of kids having secret lives," Garbarino said. He compared parents' lack of knowledge about their kids' secret acts to someone who is surprised to learn that his or her spouse is having an affair.

"It's not because they're blind or stupid but because people are good at keeping secrets, and it's hard to walk around thinking the worst of ones you love," he said. "Is every parent supposed to go around wondering about their kid: Are you a mass murderer?"

Garbarino, who will appear at 7 p.m. on Sept. 12 at Walden Books in the Cherry Creek mall, said he's now working on a book about bullying that also illustrates how little parents may know about their kids' lives outside the home.

"It's always a matter of seeing the whole picture of a kid's life," he said. "Another cautionary tale is that kids do things with friends and in groups that they won't do alone."

Would Klebold or Harris have acted alone?

Garbarino said that he has little information about Harris but that the twisted world the boys created together seems to him something that's "unlikely that (Klebold) would have created on his own. The whole is greater than the sum of the parts."

Synopsis: To update FBI Headquarters regarding captioned mass murder case.

Details: At approximately 11:30 a.m. on 04/20/1999, the two referenced subjects entered the Columbine High School, Littleton, Colorado, and thereafter began shooting students and staff, and also utilizing explosive devices. It was subsequently determined that prior to entering the school, the two subjects planted explosive devices in and around the school parking lot, and killed two students outside the school building.

Through further investigation, it was determined that the two subjects probably committed suicide after murdering 13 individuals, students and staff. In addition to the homicide victims, there were a total of 23 other victims wounded by gunshots and bomb shrapnel. As of today, 16 of these individuals remain hospitalized with 5 being in critical condition.

To date, the FBI's sole responsibility in this investigation is to assist Jefferson County, Colorado, authorities, as requested. This includes providing two Evidence Response Teams (ERT), the Denver bomb technicians, the SWAT team and a number of Agents used for interviewing purposes. The FBI continues liaison with the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, and Firearms and the U. S. Attorney's Office for Colorado.

On 04/20/1999, the Denver SWAT team assisted with the securing of a perimeter of the Columbine High School and evacuating students. Subsequently, the Denver ERT has been conducting crime scene investigations, including the crime scene investigation regarding the two fatalities outside of the school building, the area outside the school, and vehicles in the school parking lot. The Denver bomb technicians have been assisting EOD personnel in searching for numerous explosive devices at the school, in vehicles, and at residences.

Denver Agents have interviewed an associate of the subjects, which has produced a lead regarding an individual who may have sold at least one weapon to the subjects. The cooperating witness has volunteered to take a polygraph to verify his information. The individual identified as the alleged gun seller is currently under SOG surveillance. This alleged gun seller is identified as Philip Joseph Duran, W, M, DOB Denver intends to continue to provide any services needed as requested by Jefferson County Sheriff's Office. It is fully anticipated that this matter will remain a local homicide (mass murder) investigation.

A total of approximately 400 law enforcement officers from 24 agencies have been involved in the investigation.

Denver has requested assistance from the Critical Incident Response Team/EAP to assist Denver employees who were at the crime scene and who had students in this school.

The Denver Command Post number is (303) 626-2721.

TWO MAJOR INITIATIVES INVOLVE RESPONDING TO ADDITIONAL THREATS IMPLYING SECONDARY EXPLOSIVE DEVICES THAT ARE ALLEGED TO GO OFF ON APRIL 25, 1999, AT UNSPECIFIC LOCATIONS.

A SECOND MAJOR FOCUS INVOLVES THE INTERVIEW OF IN EXCESS OF 300 STUDENTS, FACULTY AND OTHER WITNESSES, IN ORDER TO DETERMINE THE EXACT MOVEMENT OF CAPTIONED SUBJECTS DURING THE INCIDENT AS WELL AS ATTEMPTING TO RESOLVE NUMEROUS IMPLICATIONS OR ALLEGATIONS OF ADDITIONAL PARTICIPANTS.

AS OF THIS TIME, IN EXCESS OF 300 LEADS ARE CURRENTLY IN RAPID START AND APPROXIMATELY 25 STATE, LOCAL AND FEDERAL INVESTIGATORS ARE CURRENTLY CONDUCTING INTERVIEWS AS INDICATED ABOVE.

Synopsis: Information for all Field Offices and Legats pertaining to planned activities in remembrance of the anniversary date of the CHS incident. Recipients are requested to provide positive information which could have an impact on these activities to the Denver Field Office.

Details: On 04/20/1999, the worst school killings in United States history occurred at CHS in unincorporated Jefferson County, Colorado. The attack, which included the use of explosive devices, resulted in the deaths of 13 students, one teacher, and both gunmen. Hundreds of law enforcement personnel responded to the scene, including members of the Denver FBI Office.

For information of recipients, during the month of April 2000, several memorials, remembrances, and fund raisers will be held at the school, as well as in the surrounding park. Extensive local and national media coverage is anticipated during several of the events. Crowds in excess of 80,000 are expected to attend some of the more highly-publicized activities occurring on 04/20/2000. Columbine area churches will also hold services at various times throughout that day.

Some of the main activities expected to draw a large number of participants include a 5K memorial run on Sunday, 04/16/2000, and a series of memorials and other activities in the adjacent park on Thursday, 04/20/2000. The day will conclude with a candlelight vigil beginning at 9:30 pm at the Clement Park Amphitheater.

The Jefferson County School District has announced it will not hold any classes for CHS students on 04/20/2000. There will be a voluntary assembly for faculty and students starting at 9:30 that morning.

The Jefferson County Sheriff's Department incident command post will be operational from Monday, 04/17/2000, until Thursday, 04/20/2000.

Based upon the expected media presence and past national exposure subsequent criminal activity has garnered in the Columbine area, CHS memorial events could draw the interest of extremist groups and/or individuals attempting to gain national exposure and publicity for their own political or social agendas.

Receiving offices are requested to provide any positive information which could have an impact on the planned memorial events to SA [redacted] Denver FBI JTTF, telephone [redacted] or to Jefferson County Sheriff's Investigator, [redacted] Denver FBI JTTF, telephone [redacted].

On April 23, 1999 an examination of a generic mid-tower computer was initiated by SA [REDACTED]. The computer's hard drive was imaged logically to Maxoptix magneto opticle disks and the logical image was then restored and reviewed.

The hard drive was examined for the phrase "hey I support Eric Harris", with positive results. The following files were located in the c:\WINDOWS\Temporary Internet Files sub-directory:

All I can say is FT. Worth Watch out cause at a middle school. Tuesday will be another day, but not for all". through the computer on previous occasions. [redacted]'s father, [redacted] gave consent to search the contents of the home computer and met officers and agents at his residence. [redacted]'s bedroom had a security camera outside the door with an intercom system as well as a magnetic contact alarm system attached to the bedroom door. Inside the bedroom, the windows were covered with black curtains, violent computer games, computer equipment, stereo equipment, and an electric guitar were also seen. The room was very unkempt. A search of the room was not conducted. FBI agents took the generic mid-tower computer and obtained an image of the computer's hard drive. The message regarding Harris and the Fort Worth threats were contained on [redacted]'s hard drive.

[redacted] was presented with the evidence that the message had indeed originated from his computer. [redacted] stated that he had sent the message as a dare from an unidentified friend that he had been talking to on the Internet. [redacted] also stated that he had put in the threat about a Middle School in Fort Worth having the same happen to it because he did not want to take the Texas Assessment (TASS) test at his school on Tuesday. [redacted] stated that he had been in the same chat room as Eric Harris, but he had never directly received a message from Harris or had communicated with him directly. [redacted] is known at his Middle School as being very good with computers and maintains his own web site.

[redacted] has been charged with a State jail felony and the computer disks, CD ROM and copies of pertinent information downloaded from [redacted]'s hard drive, have been given to the Fort Worth Police Department for their prosecution of [redacted]

Dallas is enclosing the reports, receipts and a copy of the original message sent to Fort Worth Police Department from the concerned citizen.

Synopsis: Information received at Nashville, TN.

Details: On 4/21/99, [REDACTED] telephonically contacted the Nashville RA and advised as follows:

He is in Nashville until Saturday, 4/24/99, attending a conference. [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] He stated he simply wanted to pass on some information in light of the shootings at Columbine High School. He advised a couple of weeks ago, one of his school counselors told him about what appears to be a loosely knit group of drug using high school students calling themselves the "420 Club", the premise being that every afternoon at 4:20pm when school is out, they get together and do their drugs and talk. This group's website stated that the date, 4/20, would be significant and there would be extra celebration.

[REDACTED] advised he merely wanted to pass on the above information, for whatever it's worth; he can be reached in Wisconsin at phone [REDACTED]

NCAVC - INFORMATION CONCERNING

Synopsis: Information regarding potential secondary attacks being forwarded.

Details: Reference telcall from Cleveland SA [REDACTED] to NCAVC SSA [REDACTED] on 04/21/1999.

On the evening of 04/22/1999, SA [REDACTED] was contacted by Dr. [REDACTED] advised that he is a psychologist specializing in individual reactions to extreme stress as well as the dynamics of groups under stress. Dr. [REDACTED] advised that he had been watching and listening to coverage of the violence occurring at Columbine High School, Littleton, CO and that the situation had raised a particular concern, based on his experiences, of a potential secondary attack by unknown associates of the gunmen in the school.

Dr. [REDACTED] expressed the opinion that membership in such a group as the one being called the "Trench Coat Mafia" could create such a strong dynamic among its members that persons not involved in the initial attack would try to show solidarity with the attackers or even try to "out-do" them by staging a secondary or follow-on attack. Additionally, the group dynamic may be such that the members of the group think and act in a manner similar to that of terrorist cells. Dr. [REDACTED] noted that the apprehension of three possible associates of the attackers in a field near the school indicates that the group solidarity dynamic was in effect. Dr. [REDACTED] suggested that places where students, parents or safety forces were congregating would be attractive sites for a secondary attack by persons acting within this group dynamic. He expressed concern that the live television coverage showed few, if any, measures being taken by law enforcement to guard against such an attack.

Dr. [] also suggested that it would be imperative to determine if the two known attackers were "best friends." If it is determined that they were not each other's closest friend, the actual "best friend" of each known attacker would be the likeliest person to commit or instigate the secondary attack.

Dr. [] was concerned as well with the potential that the attackers themselves would have prepared secondary explosive devices targeting responding safety forces, either inside the school or in the vicinity of likely gathering places. This tactic is well-used by terrorist groups overseas and is becoming an increasing concern domestically.

On the morning of 04/21/1999, Dr. [] was re-contacted to obtain contact information and any further analysis. Dr. [] furnished the below-listed information and noted that he had learned, from media reports, that a timed explosive device had detonated inside the school at 11:00 pm, Denver time, last night. Dr. [] noted that, if true, such a tactic would fit with the terrorist group dynamic and may indicate an increased probability of further violent acts on the part of other members of the group.

By way of background, Dr. [] advised that []

[] Dr. [] has consulted on and treated the victims of numerous instances of violent death in middle and secondary schools.

on aol that I linked to after putting in the term 'trenchcoat mafia'. See below some URL's you should visit. It appears to be a Dungeon & Dragon type sick role playing game. I think the Trenchcoat Mafia creeps were and are (the remaining ones) involved in.
